

r, a good pair of leggings and a wool or tweed coat. I make for your fall wardrobe is a classic tailored cut and design you will love, as you will probably wear one year. Whatever fashion trend you decide to embrace in the fact that bright colours like yellow, carry over into the winter season."

Founder and Editor-in-Chief The Style Spy Media Inc.

erica@thestylespy.com

"Fall is by far my favourite fashion season. I'm most excited about the luxurious metallics—shiny silvers, bronzes and golds. For the evening, I'm trading in the Little Black Dress for the Little Gold Dress. A great factor. I'm also looking forward to the timeless white shirt, a black tuxedo jacket and a great camel coat. These pieces, they'll work in your closet five to ten years. For those who want a bit more punch in their wardrobe, I'm looking at neon pinks and electric yellows, patterns like animal prints and textures like velvets and sequins were big trends this season. For us who are trying to curb the spending this fall, I have a great way to update an existing wardrobe. Take the time to invest in a bold piece that can revamp your favourite dress. I won't be rocking this season, spotted on the fall '09 runway: socks with pumps! I love DVF, but I'll take a pass."

affordable beauty luxuries, such as the new fall 2009 collections of nail polishes, including de Espana by OPI for just $11. My predictions regarding some colours for a "polished" fashion season are "Here Today...Aragon Tomorrow" (a dark emerald), "Suzi Skis in the Pyrenees" (a deep blue-gray) and "Give me Moor" (a wine purple)—they'll surely be hits! I'm also noticing flawless skin, nude subtle shades of shadows, more eyeliner, more lashes and way more brow. Wink Beauty Lounge offers the "Eye Opener" service for $45—a combination of dark eyelash tinting, eyebrow tint and design. And while the lashes are "developing," you melt in our lounge chair with a luxurious hand and arm massage. Beauty treatments such as this are big for the fall season."

Jesse Carlson

Wardrobe Consultant

jessiecarlson.com

"Whenever I meet a new client, I want to make sure that she has the basics in her wardrobe: a fabulous blazer, good black pants, great jeans, heels and flats, the right T-shirts, a crisp white blouse, an outstanding bag and a well-cut winter coat. There is more to that list, but you get the idea. I feel that with the right base you can take your wardrobe anywhere, and while you may not want to follow every new trend, there are ways to incorporate new fashion ideas into your look. For example—shoes, bags and sunglasses. Shoes change every year, and I think fabulous new shoes worn with great jeans, a T-shirt and a well-cut blazer are perfect. This is also true for bags, sunglasses and fall coats. I love fashion and experimenting, but I actually prefer more of a classic look. Having said that, I would also point out that this fall season we will see some stunning pieces. Think simple, feminine silhouettes, exposed zippers, and clean lines. Word in Paris is that billionaires are passé—less will be so much more this season."

blouse, a long wool sweater. The best purchase you can make is a wool or tweed coat in a color you can wear it for more than one season. To embrace this season, take a look at orange and metallics will be

Erica Lam

There's much more of a wardrobe than just classics—a classic white shirt, a classic white coat. These are investment pieces that last years down the line. For the fall season, neon brights like punchy pinks, plaids and tweeds, are trending on the runway. For those of you who love accessories are always a great addition. A statement necklace—it's a classic from last season. One trend I love is Diane Von Furstenberg Fall. I'll have to take on that trend I'll have to take